This two-day event is part of a series organised by First Partnership Limited on behalf of Hampshire Schools as an introduction to Science & Industry.

Facilitated by Barry Thomas (Building Services Manager from Market Quay, Fareham site), it was Attended by Year 6 Primary School children who are about to move up to secondary schools. The children are given an insight into the link between what is learnt at school & work after leaving school.

In a series of 30 minute sessions over 300 pupils were given an exercise aimed at giving an insight into the sort of thoughts & actions that need to be undertaken to work in the wider world of industry.

The activity was tackled with distinct enthusiasm by all who took part & attracted significant interest from staff as well as pupils.

Other Companies/organisations in attendance on the day included St. John's Ambulance, Hampshire Fire & Rescue & Motorola
